How To Duplicate Piece Of Research?
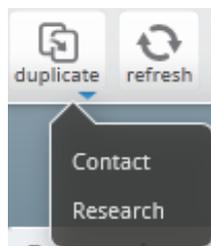

It is possible to duplicate a piece of research in Synaptic Comparator to save time when the details are similar. For example, it may be useful to duplicate a piece of research that has similar platform features.
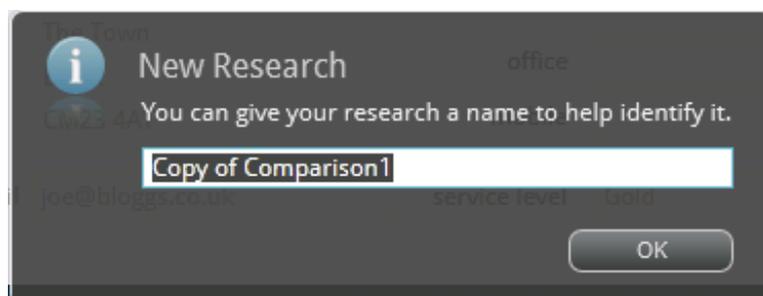

To do this, navigate to the contact in question, all previous research will be shown in the Activities pane.

Click on the piece of research you wish to duplicate, then click Duplicate from the top menu followed by Research.

You will now get a pop-up window allowing you to re-name the new piece of research.

An alternative way of duplicating research is to right-click on the research in question and press duplicate on the pop-up.

Comparison1
2 Nov 2011 11:37am

→ resume

⮺ duplicate