

Do you integrate with other software?

Synaptic Research can be integrated with any other software– back-office client management systems, extranets, quote portals, etc.

The integration is two-way: client and other data can be passed in to pre-populate Synaptic Research, and all reports which the user generates can then be passed back into the integrating system.

Please contact your Synaptic account manager for a copy of the integration specification, or any other information about integrating with Synaptic Research.
