

Why am I unable to run a Phased Drawdown scenario directly through the Results screen?

Phased Drawdown has been added as another step to complete in the step-by-step process, giving you a workable results screen for the first phase of drawdown.

Dependent on how you complete the details in the first phase, this will dictate how the result screen for the second phase is compiled. As there is effectively a scenario for each phase, we were unable to add this to the results screen.
